1. Love the Lord with your mind

READ: Matthew 22:37, Proverbs 23:7

The mind has two main functions:

- it remembers and
- it imagines.

We are called to love God with both — with our memory of what He has done and with our imagination of what He will still do.

Discussion:

What does it mean practically to love God with your mind, and why does Scripture link our thinking so closely to who we become?

Lead the discussion to:

- Filling your mind with Him
 - ❖ Choosing to think about His Word,
 - ❖ His character,
 - ❖ His past faithfulness
 - ❖ His promises more than you think about fear, failure or the opinions of others.
- Loving Him with both parts of the
 - ❖ Memory — deliberately remembering what He has already done (like David remembering the lion)
 - ❖ Imagination — daring to picture what He can still do, instead of staying stuck in the past.
- Renewing your mind daily
 - ❖ Actively replacing old, limiting, fleshly thoughts with truth so the Spirit can work through you.
- Setting and focusing your mind
 - ❖ Deciding what you will dwell on so that nothing can easily talk you out of what you believe.

2. Memory and Imagination

The mind remembers and the mind imagines. Many people get trapped in these two places. If you do not imagine a better tomorrow, you will stay stuck in your memory. If you are stuck in memory, you stay stuck in real life.

If you can imagine it, it can become real. Reality flows from your thoughts. Your thoughts define your reality.

Discussion:

- In what ways can living only in memories (good or bad) keep us from what God wants to do next?

Lead the discussion to:

- Memory without imagination leaves us looking backward only
- Imagination without memory forgets God's faithfulness
- We need both: remember what God has done and imagine what He will still do

- How can remembering God's past victories help us imagine and step into new ones, instead of trapping us in the past?

Lead discussion:

- Past victories become fuel for present faith
- We love God with both: for the victories He has given and for the things He will still do

David went from remembering the lion (what God had already done) to imagining: "The Lord shall give the victory." He used memory as a launch pad for faith about the future, not as a place to stay stuck.

If you are stuck, begin to think of tomorrow. The battle is to occupy the mind with what God can still do.

3. The battle for the mind

READ: Romans 8:7, Romans 12:2

Satan is fighting for your mind. An unrenewed, fleshly mind is God's enemy and does not bow to God. Your mind is trying to catch up with the anointing God has already given you.

Discussion:

- Why is renewing the mind so essential, and what happens when the mind remains unrenewed?

Lead the discussion to:

- An unrenewed mind resists God and limits what we can receive
- Renewing the mind gives the Spirit room to work through us
- You will not fully walk in the anointing if you do not think in line with it

4. The anointing is already in you

READ: John 2:20

The anointing is already in your past, present and future. You just have to push it out. When you renew your mind, you give place for the Spirit to work through you. If the mind is not renewed, it blocks the signals from the

You are where your mind is.

Set and focus your mind so that nothing can talk you out of what you believe

Discussion:

- What does it look like practically to “push out” the anointing that is already in you by the way you think?

Lead the discussion to:

- Think and speak in line with what God has already placed in you
- top letting an unrenewed mind block the Holy Spirit
- Make the things of God bigger in your thinking
- Talk to yourself on purpose

5. Your mind sets the limit of your faith

What happens in your mind happens in time. Your mind sets the limit of your faith. God meets you at your limit.

In a sense, you set the criteria for how God can work in your life by what you are willing to believe and imagine.

Learn to talk to yourself the way the woman with the issue of blood did: “If I can only touch the hem of His garment...” People who touched Jesus were made whole. What you keep saying and imagining shapes what you reach for. “You, Jesus, just have to say it and it will happen.” Repeat it every day.

Discussion:

- How does the limit of what we are willing to imagine affect what we experience of God’s power?

Lead the discussion to:

- God often meets us at the edge of what we dare to believe
- We must deliberately enlarge what we imagine God can do
- Speaking faith to ourselves is part of renewing the mind
